The 2,346 sq. ft. residence combines timeless charm with a functional open-concept design. The welcoming foyer provides plenty of space for coats and boots before flowing into the heart of the home—an inviting kitchen and living area framed by expansive windows. The kitchen, boasting the best vantage point in the house, looks straight out over the porch to the mountains and Bow River, ensuring the view is always the backdrop to daily life and entertaining. On the south wing, the sun-filled primary bedroom creates a private retreat, while the secondary bedroom enjoys its own ensuite. Outdoors, over $100K in newly planted trees enhance the beautifully landscaped grounds, surrounding a peaceful pond and hot tub, and creating a serene, park-like environment. For hobbyists and car enthusiasts, the triple attached garage—currently serving as a workshop—plus an additional detached garage provide plenty of space and flexibility. The renovated walkout basement expands the living space with a spacious entertaining area, bar/kitchen, laundry room, sauna, and two bedrooms on opposite ends for maximum privacy. With its layout, this level also holds excellent potential for a secondary apartment (subject to municipal approval and permitting). Practical features like in-floor heating powered by an impressive boiler system and a dedicated furnace room make acreage
