Bridgeland/Memorial LRT station is literally steps away — hop on and you're one stop from downtown Calgary, or switch directions for shopping and hospital. The Bow River and extensive pathway system are just a minute away, while Bridgeland's restaurants, coffee shops, pubs and local businesses are an easy walk from home. St. Patrick's Island, the Calgary Zoo and East Village are also close by. It's easy to understand why Bridgeland has become one of Calgary's favourite inner-city communities. For a first-time buyer, downtown professional, or investor looking for a property with excellent transit and rental appeal, this one checks a lot of boxes: great views, underground parking, a modern building and one of the best locations for getting in and out of downtown without actually living in the downtown core.
